It Begins to Crop Out.

Some time ago we had occasion to call attention to the close affinity existing between Gazette and the Two-for. The verification begins to appear. At the Milford convention Dr. Stevens, of the Sanitarium, was chosen as the Democratic Congressional nominee, clearly because of his financial ability, rather than his statesmanship. Branson Worley, an able aspirant from this county, and several gentlemen from other counties whose services entitled them to recognition, were ruthlessly turned down by those who were given to understand that Stevens had the boodle. It was triumphantly and exultingly asserted that he was another Sorg, and that his boodle would carry him through. The plan was to raise a hue and cry against Mr. Hulick for the alleged use of boodle, and under cover of this diversion to tap the Stevens barrel and flood the counties of the district. Stevens knew that his only hope lay in the use of the dollars at his command, as he had neither ability nor party service to bring to his aid. Yet he was anxious for the nomination.

It was thought that all who apposed the use of boodle would vote against Hulick, while all who appreciated its easy acquirement by peculiar political methods could be quietly secured for Stevens. Already has Gazette begun carrying out this program. Already she has lifted her voice of outrageous falsehood against Hulick, and, already, as in last fall's campaign, she begins to swear that the sainted candidates of Democracy will not use the vile stuff. This is partly to deceive the general public, and partly that when the Democratic workers ask for their hire, she may retain a larger per cent. of the commission.

Now comes the Two-for and joins its squeak with the howl of Gazette, and says, "No, Dr. Stevens won't use any boodle!" Since when did the Two-for gain entrance to the councils of Democracy? Since when did the Sanitarium sucker make it the repository of his confidences?

We have not been in the habit of jumping on other people with accusations which we had to retract in our next issue. We generally know where of we speak. Gazette and the Two-for can champion their proteges, and do all in their power to conceal his use of boodle, but the green and golden swirl on the current of the campaign will show where the great Sanitarium sucker has been. In view of the hard times, we trust the Highland county boys in the trenches may not get left. Our anxiety is that the money may get into general circulation.

The Gazette insists that the recent rain came not because of the advertisement in the News-Herald, but because of a prayer offered by our good Brother, Rev. W. J. McSurely, in the Presbyterian Church. We'll not be mean about it. If the preacher claims it, so mote it be. But, in the name of all that's sacred, we want to know when El. Hough got to be a judge of the efficacy of prayer!

With a wail going up from the millions of poor all over the land because of the threat of Democratic legislation, one of the cuckoo organs remarks: "Republican laws make the rich richer and the poor poorer." Josh Billings once remarked: "Fools are divided into three classes—common fools, particular fools, and durned fools; but occasionally you find all in one, a common, particular durned fool." Josh probably had the cuckoo in mind.

The employment of militia of various states recently for the suppression of riot and disorder calls attention to the great strength of that arm of the public service. The full strength by states shows the aggregate number of militia 110,796 uniformed, disciplined men. New York leads the country in the number of militia in service, her infantry numbering 12,421, cavalry 103, artillery 382, officers 756; total armed men 13,662. Pennsylvania comes second with a total of 7713, Massachusetts third with a total of 5167 and Ohio fourth with 4396 armed men. The smallest number is returned by Wyoming with 393 men. The full military "reserve" of the United States, including all the able bodied male population of fighting age is 9,144,500. The National Guard of New York and Pennsylvania, about 20,000 men, is the best disciplined and best fighting corps of its size. Phil Sheridan once said, the best in the world.—Columbus Journal.

"A Sure Cure for Mosquitoes."

Mr. Francis McCabe, who comes from Sagitt, N.Y., where the mosquitoes are so thick and savage that they have been known to eat a blanket off a horse, says that some years ago he saw in a newspaper that the people in the jungles of India protected themselves from the pest by planting castor beans around their houses. He tried the experiment and found it a great success. "Now," he says although the mosquitoes may be so thick 100 yards away that you can not see the stars they never come near my house. I have several of the plants set out in my garden, while on the rear and side porches they grow in tubs. I have heard that a poisonous substance on the under side of the leaf of the palmaria christi, which is the technical name, kills the long-billed imps of voracity. The prevention is not only absolute, but the plants add greatly to the attractiveness of the house, and cost very little.—Washington Star.

You Must See Them.

The famous Pierce Combination will give exhibition races each day of the Fair. These will consist of Roman standing races, hurdle races and skeleton wagon races.

The wonderful Anderson dogs will appear on Wednesday, Children's Day. Jeff, whose picture appears in the Utman show window, has a trotting race of 3:09, in a pneumatic sulky. Dr. Anderson's wonderful team, Duke and Bolive, will give exhibition races.

You can't afford to miss these novel attractions.

FRANK EMMERLING

The Democratic New York Sun printed the following in 1887. It would seem now that the article was intended for the present time, it is so applicable. It says: "There is labor in every pound of iron, every yard of cloth, every gallon of wine imported into the country. This foreign labor displaces just so much American labor. If less wages are paid to this foreign labor than our American laborers receive, then the consistent tendency of the importations is to reduce wages here to European standards. Whenever in our folly we have tried free trade or an approach to free, our laborers have lost their high wages, and then their employment at any wages, whatever. Our manufacturers, undersold by cheaper foreign production, were forced to close their furnaces, mills and factories, our workmen and proprietors exhibited to the nations of the earth the spectacle of a people claiming to be great sitting in idleness and poverty, waiting for the growth of sufficient political reason to save a nation's industry from utter ruin by restoration of protective duties on foreign importations. The right to protect your labor is as sacred as the right to protect your lives. And duty to do so is just as obligatory. Your title to your own country's markets is supreme. No foreign competitor has any right whatever in it. Shut him out! Don't forget that this competitor is in every ton of rails, every ton of copper, every crate of crockery, every bundle of carpets that come from abroad through our custom houses."

Dow Tax Settlement.

The liquor dealers of this county have paid into the county treasury the sum of $4,200 for the Dow tax. There were thirty-five saloons in existence, but some of them only paid part of the tax, and two quit the business. The fund has been divided as follows: State $840, Corporations $2,520, Poor Fund $840.

A pleasant welcome to all.

A Good Selection.

At their meeting Saturday evening the Trustees of the Tuscarora public school elected Prof. A. L. Snider, Principal of that school for the term commencing in September, at a salary of $115 per month. Prof. Snider is one of the most successful educators in Nevada, and the Tuscarora Trustees have made a good selection.—Elks, Nevada, Free Press.

The Prof. A. L. Snider referred to in the above is a son of John Snider, of Rainsboro. His many Highland county friends will be glad to hear of his success in the West.
